Don't want to push you a-round, you know I think that you're boss.
 You know which but-fons to push, I like it un-der your thumb.
 I know you're such a po-wer house, no need for such a dis-play.

Let's work out some mid-dle ground, say heads or tails and then toss.
 Bet-ter to squeeze than to crush, I love it when you suc-cumb.
 I can't vi-sit your dog house, It's too far out of my way.

1. 2. You call the shots and I'll call the tune,

I'll crack the whip and you rule the room. I'll wear the pants and you pull the strings, don't waste your en - er - gy on fool - ish things. The ace I'm hold - ing is meant for you,

I could - n't pull a po - wer trip on you. As long as one of us is in con - trol, turn up the po - wer and let's rock and roll.
